A VISIT TO FLORENCE

by Jamal Mohamed, age 12

I often travel abroad with my parents. They're both painters so they really enjoy visiting museums all over the world. Last summer we went to Italy. We visited a lot of beautiful cities but the one I liked best was Florence. The lady who took us sightseeing was my father's art teacher. She's lived in Florence for over 30 years so she knows a lot of interesting facts about the city.

Florence has a lot of things to see. On the first day we went to the Uffizi Museum. There were a lot of beautiful paintings, but I was a bit frightened when I saw Caravaggio's Medusa. This painting shows the head of a woman whose hair is actually snakes! My little brother started crying when he saw it, so we had to leave the room!

We spent the next three days walking around the town. Fortunately, it was sunny all the time, so we visited several wonderful buildings in the city centre and had a nice walk along the Arno river. There are a lot of nice bridges, but one of the oldest ones, Ponte Vecchio, is amazing because it's got real shops on it.

I never thought I would find Florence so interesting. It's a shame we only stayed there for four days, so we weren't able to see that much. However, my parents have decided we'll go back. We're going to spend a few weeks there next time so we'll have time to visit what we missed.

14 Why did Jamal's parents decide to visit Italy?

C They wanted to see his father's art teacher.

15 Why did Jamal and his family leave the Uffizi Museum?

B There were some snakes in the museum.

C Jamal's little brother was upset.

16 What did Jamal and his family do in the following days?

A They went sightseeing.

B They went shopping.

C They went sunbathing by the river.

17 Why is Ponte Vecchio so special?

A because it's the oldest bridge

B because it's more beautiful than the other bridges

C because it has buildings on it

18 What does Jamal say about his trip?

A He thought it was a bit boring.

B He is sorry that it was so short.

C He's sad because he misses Florence.
